DURDANS HOSPITAL DONATES WHITE CANES TO THE BLIND

In commemoration of International White Cane Day upon the request of the Sri Lankan Welfare Society of the Blind donated white canes to the visually impaired. This is an annual event and this year Durdans Hospital participated in the provision of 'eyes' to the blind. The visually handicapped white canes act as their eyes and provide the guidance needed to navigate the world around them.

DOGS TRAINED TO SNIFF STRESS

- In a new study, dogs detected samples of breath and sweat taken from an individual experiencing psychological stress with an accuracy of 93.75%
- The results indicate the physiological processes associated with stress produce changes in compounds flowing from breath, sweat, or both, and that dogs can detect these changes.
- According to researchers, four dogs were trained for about an hour each week over the course of about 10 months.
